Is proud to welcome
Rabbi Dovid Landesman
as our new

Director of Education and Administration

PARDES Academy is a unique opportunity for high-school age students to thrive in an indoor/outdoor school setting that is professionally staffed by trained rabbis, social workers, educators and teen mentors.

The 10 month curriculum is designed to offer an alternative specialty school solution for students that require a flexible and customized educational experience. PARDES Academy brings together educational, religious, clinical and therapeutic service components to serve the needs of students of the Los Angeles Jewish Community.
